France Does Not As Yet Recognize Lublin Committee

PARIS, Dec. 28. (AP)—The ministry of foreign affairs announced yesterday exchange of delegates with the Lublin Polish Committee of National Liberation but it was stressed in official circles that the move did not mean recognition of the Soviet-sponsored committee as a provisional government. The ministry's communique said Christian Fouchet had arrived in Lublin to discuss the provisional government of the French Republic and that "M. Jedrychowski has arrived in Paris as delegate of the Polish National Committee."

Fliers Report Germans Burn Own Vehicles

By HAL BOYLE

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN BELGIUM, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Fighting fliers reported yesterday that German panzer troops were setting fire to their vehicles in the Celles area at the point of the Nazis' deepest penetration toward the Meuse river.

American airmen in heavy clashes with Nazi tank columns in the vicinity of Celles knocked out numerous enemy tanks and took more than 450 prisoners in cleaning up Celles alone.

As American fighter-bombers swept over German columns for the fourth straight day, barbed wire and the Marche-Mahay line—north shoulder of the German salient—dropped their offensive action and began to dig in defensively.

This put them in a most unfavorable role, since armor never has been able to "dig in" successfully against determined infantry attack.

Although ground officers declined to draw any conclusions from air reports of the self-destruction by the Germans' most advanced elements, one staff officer commented:

"This first phase of the German drive is finished. It has been a failure because of Field Marshal von Rundstedt's failure to carry out the announced plan, but critical days and much fighting still lie ahead."

The peace, inhabitant of Ceylon, Burma, Malaya and Java, was imported into Greece by Alexander the Great.

"I'm just saying myself... I'll be the life of the party when refreshments are served."

Stubborn Fighting By Japanese Seen

CHUNGKING, Dec. 28.—(AP)—

Information Minister Wang Shih-Chieh said yesterday the Chinese high command believed the Japanese intended to consolidate a route from Korea to Malaya not as an avenue of retreat but "to put up very stubborn fighting in China, French Indo-China and Malaya."

Wang told correspondents the Japanese spent more than eight months in offensive operations to open the route, and that the objective had been largely achieved. He said the Chinese considered it a duty to furnish "by far the largest land forces" for the forthcoming struggle, and added that Chinese authorities were taking steps to obtain better equipment for its army.

Judging by the record of American-supplied Chinese troops in Burma, said the Chinese, in speeding Allied victory, Wang said.

The information minister said China's economic front was "no less serious" than the military, but that there were encouraging signs in the steadiness of the price index in free China during the latter half of 1944.

Merry Yule—But No Surrender

By WILLIAM BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN THE ADRIATIC SECTOR, Dec. 28.—(CP)—Burst of Canadian mortar fire ended a German attempt at Christmas Eve piñata when the Canadians felt the enemy carried things too far by asking them to surrender.

A Canadian formation on the Sena river's east bank, just west of captured Baginaville, viewed with tolerance the sight of a drunken German soldier riding a white horse on the diked west bank and held their fire.

Then the Germans put on a little card program, ending it with a musical "Merry Christmas." A Canadian trooper who knew German rolled in kind.

But that was followed with the remark that started the mortar fire, a German calling "Why don't you surrender?"

General Deplores Failure To Hit Foe "On the Nose"

By TOM REEDY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Gen. Peyton C. March, United States chief of staff in the First Great War, yesterday deplored what he termed the Allied failure to hit the advancing German armies "on the nose."

Gen. March, on his 80th birthday, also said:

1. Declared a complete breakdown in Allied military intelligence preceded the German counter-offensive.

2. Estimated that talk of "unconditional surrender" had hampered military operations.

3. Expressed doubt that Russia would join in the war against Japan.

Gen. March said that one reason the Allied military intelligence "broke down completely" was Hitler himself.

"In the other countries, we depended a lot on the underground for invaluable information. Hitler got rid of all such elements in Germany itself. He has a homogenous nation."

Gen. March won't accept the theory that the weather interferes in such operations.

"I never saw it snow on one side and not on the other."

He said it was important now to see how long it will take to blunt the German offensive.

"We're hitting them on the side, everywhere it seems but on the nose," he said wryly.

All this talk of unconditional surrender and what we're going to do to them hasn't been very helpful to us," he said.

In doubting that Russia ever will get into the war against Japan, he said:

"I suppose this government is trying to get Siberian bases and this was the year when we were in the best position to demand them. But don't forget that Stalin once told a Japanese 'I am an Asiatic, too.'"

KILGARETT, Northern Ireland CP—John Hetherington who has died at the age of 100 had plenty of patience. He went courting to Tennessee only once a year for 20 years until the girl became his wife. She died 10 years ago.

Situation at Front

Said "Well in Hand"

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(CP)—Premier Hubert Pierlot told the Belgian parliament yesterday that the situation at the front is "well in hand." The Brussels radio reported: "The enemy's advance is being held and Allied counterattacks are proceeding successfully from both the south and west." The Premier said: "I have all authority to tell you there is no reason for anxiety."

VANCOUVER, Dec. 28.—(CP)—Okanagan, B.C., will earn a place on the railway map of Canada today when a special train will run into the Okanagan city marking the completion of a branch line of the Kettle Valley line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The nine-mile branch line will run from Hayes, B.C., near Penticton, to Okanagan. The special train will run from Penticton after a ceremony during which the last spike will be driven in the line.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Club owners in professional sports are concerned with the possible results of re-examinations of 4-F and discharged athletes; but in our opinion that should be a minor worry, for a much more serious eventuality may confront organized sports unless the European war picture brightens soon.

For the past year or so, professional baseball, for example, has been regarded as "non-essential" to the war effort. It was neither fish nor fowl. Despite President Roosevelt's "green light" of 1942 baseball and other organized sports were permitted to carry on, in the face of increasing manpower demands for service and production, merely because of their apparent contributions to morale at home and overseas.

In September, Selective Service headquarters at Washington ruled that baseball is not ground for occupational deferment. However, the players who were not drafted or who were discharged for physical reasons from the services were permitted to play and to use the railroads in carrying out their scheduled games. The war vista was rosy then.

But, with the war view now somewhat clouded, there seems to be doubt in high places as to the current morale of sports. Some indication of this can be felt in the tenor of recent words from war mobilization director James F. Byrnes in Byrnes' letter on Dec. 26 to Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, he opened with:

I am seriously concerned that at this critical period when we are exerting every effort to direct man power into critical war industries, we find such a large number of men between the ages of 18 and 30 engaged in professional athletics of all types. After his preamble, he made it plain that 4-F and discharged athletes be re-examined.

It should be remembered that Byrnes' letter to Hershey was written two weeks before Saturday's "request" that the nation's racetracks discontinue operations after Jan. 3. It was written before Monday's reported amplification that re-examinations would also include 4-F and discharged college athletes. It was written a week before the big German counter attack started.

If Byrnes was "seriously concerned" with the professional sports set up before the German drive began, we wonder what his attitude will be if the western front becomes more "fluid." We wonder if he will permit major and minor league baseball players to continue performing on the diamond, regardless of their draft status. Will he permit them to continue using transportation facilities? Or will he "request" that the ball parks be closed temporarily, and that State Racing Commission, Wednesday players shift their efforts to "more essential operation?"

We hope that Byrnes does not crack down on professional athletes, as he did on racers, but we are beginning to fear that he may.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—(CP)—While United States authorities are getting ready to comb the sport ranks for more men for the armed services, the Big Four football is getting ready to resume operations and from other parts of Canada comes talk of reviving this league or establishing some new loop.

That's a good sign for the future of sports, but it is bound to raise some adverse criticism in certain quarters. Plenty of people are going to ask why enough athletes can be found—if they are to be found to form new leagues when the United States is planning a post-50 Syd Thomas sible cleanup of many players coming under call-up regulations.

Of course, excluding any service teams in football ranks, there won't be too many eligible athletes on the gridiron. In fact, people have been asking for some time just where the sponsors will get enough players to operate two full-fledged leagues right now, without pulling the standard of the game down even lower.

Still, you don't need flypaper to catch the customers at sports events these days.

History notes: Mike Rodden to the Kingston Whig-Standard recalls some of the innovations introduced to Ontario amateur hockey by Capt. Jim Sullivan, hall of fame exponent. The professional rights and left defence was adopted in December, 1913, to replace the old point and counter point positions. At the same time the idea of having each team dressed in different colored sweaters was adopted. Kitchener Green shirts in 1919 were so unloved when Toronto St. Patrick's made them change their sweaters at the last instant that they flunked the final game and lost out in the Allan Cup finals of that year.

Tropical Park Closes Jan. 2
MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 28.—(AP)—Alex Bajer, chairman of the Florida State Racing Commission, Wednesday notified Tropical Park that under the government request the last day of racing will be on Jan. 2.

Tropical previously had announced that its meeting would run through Jan. 3.

Canadian Racing "No Detriment" To War Effort

WINNIPEG, Dec. 28.—(CP)—R. James Speers of Winnipeg, honorary secretary of the Prairie Thoroughbred Breeders' and Racing Association, said in a statement Wednesday that racing has been carried on in Canada "with the apparent opinion of federal authorities" that it has not been a detriment to the war effort.

Commenting on the United States order directing race tracks to close down by Jan. 3, Speers said that in Canada "the situation is entirely different."

The United States order, was passed to prevent the use of critical materials, services and transportation . . . until war conditions permit.

"The control over Canadian tracks which at times has appeared to be exceptionally rigid, has proven over a long period of time to be sound and sufficiently adequate to prevent a long period of racing in any community," said Speers.

The maximum is 14 days of racing throughout the calendar year by any one racing association. Some tracks in the United States had more than 100 days of racing each year.

Speers said that most of the Canadian racing associations adopted twilight racing so that the tracks could be manned by employed persons in their spare time. At Winnipeg, 90 per cent of the employees are steadily engaged in other business. Race meetings have been held at times close to transportation facilities, allowing reversion of both gasoline and tires.

The United States order is under study by federal authorities in Ottawa.

Trainers to Keep Horses in Shape

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 28.—(AP)—The ban on racing in the United States won't mean a holiday, not for most of the horses, anyway.

Almost all major stables campaigning in Florida will keep their thoroughbreds in training—just in case.

"We want to be ready when racing is resumed again," explained Ben Jones, trainer for the Calumet farm.

Sports . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP)—In announcing the ban on racing and calling for a review of the draft classification of professional athletes, War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes said it was difficult to understand how the four-fifths of the great athletes are in uniform and these guys are just the left-overs, competing against one another, and that the situation frequently has been explained to the public, we'll add just one more example. . . . Phil Watson, the Rangers' hockey star, broke a hand Sunday night, but he played against Toronto last night wearing a cast that let him curl his fingers around a stick. . . . Can you imagine the army letting a guy so into action that way?

2,500 Allied Planes Hit Freight Yards

LONDON, Dec. 28.—(CP)—At least 2,500 Allied planes, roaring over western Germany from bases in Britain and on the continent yesterday, showered explosives on 11 big freight yards clogged with traffic destined for Field Marshal von Rundstedt's drive into Belgium. An estimated 500 RAF Lancasters, escorted by Spitfires from continental bases, dropped about 2,500 tons of bombs in six minutes at the yards, 15 miles west of Düsseldorf.

Declares Tests Prove Chaplin Is Not Father

By HOWARD C. HEYD

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A pathologist testified yesterday in the Charles Chaplin paternity test that he concluded the 55-year-old actor was not the father of Joan Barry's baby.

In testimony admitted over the persistent objections of Chaplin's counsel, Dr. Newton Evans declared he and two other physicians last spring took blood specimens from Chaplin, Miss Barry and Carol Ann Barry.

Dr. Evans, a pathologist who testified he conducted most of the blood tests, said that the blood of Chaplin type O, on the basis of scientific experience and experiment, the physicians declared Chaplin could not be the father of the baby.

His conclusions were corroborated by Dr. Roy W. Hamman, a pathologist who testified he conducted most of the blood tests, said that the blood of Chaplin type O, on the basis of scientific experience and experiment, the physicians declared Chaplin could not be the father of the baby.

Nippon Warships Shell U.S. Forces

By HOWARD C. HEYD

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Manila, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Japanese warships shelled American positions on Mindanao Island Tuesday but were repulsed, according to reports received today.

American planes and motor torpedo boats sank three of the Japanese destroyers in the attacking force, and the Japanese were killed in the mopping up of the wreckage.

A coordinated enemy air attack on Mindoro did little damage. Land-based American heavy bombers bombed Clark Field, near Manila, for 10th consecutive day. Thirteen of 20 Japanese in "replenishment" planes were shot down.

An additional 20 Japanese were killed in the mopping up of the wreckage. The Japanese were killed in the mopping up of the wreckage.

New York City Meat Suppliers
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Supplies of meat in New York City wholesale markets were reported critically low yesterday as thousands of retail butchers began re-mained closed for the third day.

Joseph Cohn, counsel for the New York council of wholesale meat dealers, expressed gratification over an unofficially reported Office of Price Administration plan to bring out of a meeting with producers in Chicago yesterday to establish a ceiling price of $12.50 a hundredweight on live cattle, but he declared that that alone would not solve New York's problem. "What we must have, and what we are going to demand, in addition to a ceiling is a plan for allocation on the basis of previous consumption," he said.

Charles E. Millikan, counsel for the American meat packers, said that his organization believed that the meat shortage was a result of a "monstrous stipulation. Any contract by which any party cannot be an abettor in the case of a meat shortage."

City, Province Progressing Despite War Difficulties

Drummond is secretary of the chamber.

A rich strike of gold on the Yellowknife property started a flurry of prospecting and exploration work in the Yellowknife area and since last March more than 50 new companies have been formed. As soon as government restrictions on gold mining are lifted it is expected there will be a major gold rush which will benefit Edmonton supply houses and transportation companies.

51 NEW WELLS

There are now 51 oil wells at Norman Wells, exploring a structure which is required as the most outstanding discovery in 35 years.

Under present government restrictions there are seven mills working in the northern areas and at Yellowknife, one at Eldorado and one at Goldfields.

Construction of an air landing strip at Yellowknife this year was possible by wheeled planes. Until construction of the strip the area was reached only by pontoon or ski equipped planes.

This year aerial surveys of the whole area, started some years ago, have been completed. The square miles of territory is covered by aerial photos and maps of which was done by the U.S. Army Air Force, the Aero Service and the Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

The Alaskan Oil Ltd. this year was taken over as a crown company by the Dominion government and the provincial government has taken charge of Oil Sands Limited, with ample funds provided for exploration work and development of the projects.

The stimulation in mining work at Yellowknife has impressed upon industrial companies the need for hydro-power. Since for the development of power were checked by hydroelectric companies and the results will probably be development of power at least in the Yukon and an increase in production on the Lakelse river.

Varied Activities

Increased costs at the Royal Alexandra hospital during the year have been met by the board of directors in the board of directors, private or public, will be 30 cents a day higher than previous rates in the children's wards will be 25 cents higher. The hospital's report for a proposed five-year building program of extensions and additions to the hospital at an estimated cost of $300,000. The report is being considered by members of the board and city council.

NEW YEAR

Edmonton Public Library enjoyed a busy and successful year. The board of directors installed a special finance committee headed by Clifford Lee. A high circulation has been maintained and the Public Library street car service has grown in popularity. During the year an additional stop at West-Edmonton was started and will be continued on a temporary basis for several months next year. This year the Northern Alberta Association based in its own new office building with increased facilities to service its rapidly increasing membership. Despite the rationing regulations of gasoline and tires the auto club is growing and at the present time has well over 1000 members and associate members.

Despite the closing of air force training centres and camps in the city and the great reduction in traffic to the completion of United States projects in this area railways in Edmonton have maintained a high level of freight and passenger traffic. Christmas travel this year did not hit at all time high but officials said they had "just about all they could handle."

Volume of mail to pass through the Edmonton post office was slightly greater than during the previous year. Heavy Christmas mail was handled more easily this year owing to the fact that more extra help was available.

STUDY PROBLEMS

Service clubs in Edmonton turned their attention to the questions of post war reconstruction and re-education and many of the organizations.
